LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

TO: His Excellency, Governor James B. Edwards, Chairman
State Budget and Control Board and The Members of the South Carolina General Assembly

The Higher Education Tuition Grants Committee respectfully submits for consideration its annual report. Included in this report is general data concerning the development of the program and specific data covering the 1974-75 academic year.

Respectfully yours,
Joab Lesesne, Chairman
Higher Education Tuition Grants Committee

TUITION GRANTS—PHILOSOPHY AND PURPOSE

"Whereas, the General Assembly finds that as a result of the rising school population and the continuously rising cost of providing proper facilities for the higher education of young people, there exists in this State an urgent need to use all available educational resources wisely. A lack of higher educational facilities is inimical to the welfare and prosperity of all residents of the State and to the continued financial growth of the State; and

Whereas, the General Assembly also finds that within the State there exists several accredited independent institutions of higher learning whose facilities could be used effectively in the public interest by providing additional space for students thereby eliminating the need for substantial increases in capital outlay funds; and

Whereas, it is vital to the growth of the State that all qualified residents be offered the opportunity for furthering their education.

To achieve this in the most economical manner, students willing to bear the major cost of their educational expenses should be assisted where financial need exists in an effort to make their educational goals more readily attainable."

STATUTORY AUTHORITY FOR THE AGENCY

The General Assembly of the State of South Carolina during the 1970 session passed legislation creating the Higher Education Tuition Grants Committee. (House of Representatives Bill No. 2663; Ratification No. 1366). This committee was created as a State agency charged with the responsibility for overseeing the operation of the Tuition Grant Program.

HISTORY OF THE AGENCY

In 1970 the General Assembly passed a bill which created the Higher Education Tuition Grants Committee, an agency which was charged with the responsibility of administering tuition grants to independent college students. The Governor signed the bill on May 1, 1970. The original appropriation was $5,000.

The primary reason for the token appropriation was a serious question concerning the constitutionality of the act. It was felt by members of the legislature that a court test would be necessary and that the $5,000 appropriation would be used largely for litigation costs.

An action was brought on the grounds that the South Carolina Constitution prohibited the use of state monies for the "direct or indirect" benefit of sectarian institutions of higher learning.

The circuit court ruled in favor of the state (and the Tuition Grants legislation) and said, in effect, that the private colleges were performing a public function and that since the grants would be issued to the student rather than to the institutions, the constitutional restriction was not being violated.

Subsequently, however, the case was appealed to the South Carolina Supreme Court and the circuit court ruling was overturned.

The Supreme Court indicated that only non church-related colleges could participate in the program under the then-current constitution. This meant that only four colleges—Benedict, Coker, Converse, and Limestone—could participate.

An immediate movement was begun to change the constitution. However, since the amendment could not be submitted to the people until the general election of 1972, the 1971 General Assembly decided to go ahead with the program and appropriated $50,000 to eligible entering freshmen at the four colleges. Ultimately, 49 grants were awarded to South Carolina residents.

Based on legal opinions from the Attorney General's office and from others, it was felt that the only necessary change in the Constitution would be to eliminate the word "indirect" from the provision pertaining to institutional aid.

The 1972 session of the General Assembly appropriated $50,000 to continue the grants for the students who had been funded the previous year and added $100,000 to cover a new freshman class. This 1972-73 appropriation allowed 129 students to receive grants at the five eligible non-church related independent colleges. By now Palmer College had received accreditation and was eligible to participate.*

In November, 1972, the constitutional amendment was submitted to the people and was passed. The amendment was subsequently ratified by the General Assembly in early 1973.

For the fiscal year 1973-74, the General Assembly appropriated $4 million to the students at the 20 eligible colleges.

The Tuition Grants Committee voted to give priority to the funding of the entering freshman class. The remainder (1.8 million) was used to continue the grants of recipients from the past two years and to make selective grants to needy upperclassmen. A rather stringent academic merit system was applied to the upperclass recipients.

During the first two years of operation, the Committee contracted with the South Carolina College Council, Inc., to administer the program. The program was operated from the Council's Greenville office. After a renewal of the contract for the 1973-74 year, the Council decided to open a full-time office in Columbia. In May, 1973, the office was opened in Columbia in the Palmetto State Life Building. Mr. R. Laine Ligon was employed as coordinator of the program.

A total of 3,271 grants were made for the 1973-74 academic year. Thus far, the Committee has made awards to 4800 students for the 1974-75 academic year.

PROGRAM ADMINISTERED BY THE AGENCY

The South Carolina Higher Education Tuition Grants Committee has been charged by the General Assembly with the responsibility of administering the Tuition Grants Program. This program allows South Carolina residents who attend independent colleges in this state to receive financial assistance from the state.

All grant recipients must be full-time students of good moral character and must demonstrate financial need and academic merit. They may not take a course which leads to a degree in theology, divinity, or religious education.

Eligible students may apply their grants towards tuition and fees at any South Carolina independent college which is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools or certified by the State Department of Education for teacher training. The amount of the grant may not exceed the student's financial need or the total of tuition and fees charged by the college. Also, the amount may not exceed the annual subsidy for students who attend public colleges in the state.

In January, 1974, the Tuition Grants Committee distributed application forms to all South Carolina secondary schools and to eligible colleges. The guidance offices at the secondary schools and the financial aid offices at colleges distributed these application forms to students throughout the state.

The Tuition Grants Office received a total of 7,978 applications. These 7,978 applications represented a total financial need in excess of fifteen million dollars. This total need ($15 million) exceeded the agency's budget ($6.28 million) for the fiscal year. Therefore, the Committee established a priority system for funding applications.

All freshmen applicants who had financial eligibility were funded first. A total of 2,446 freshmen have received grants totaling $3,114,150. The remaining portion of the appropriation has been used to renew the grants for students receiving awards in previous years, to fund a limited number of needy upperclassmen applicants, and to cover administrative costs. Grants to upperclassmen totaling $3,146,654 represented 2,354 student awards.

The impact which the Tuition Grants Program had on higher education in South Carolina can be partially illustrated by the results of a survey conducted by the Committee during the fall semester. A total of 4,406 students completed the questionaire out of a possible 4,800 grant recipients. Forty one percent (41%) of the students indicated that without the aid of their grant they would not have gone to college anywhere. Sixteen percent (16%) of the students indicated that they would have attended some other college. If these percentages are applied to the total grant population, 1,968 students would not have been able to go to college during 1974-75 and another 768 students would have been forced to attend another institution for financial reasons.

EXPENDITURES AND RESOURCES

The Higher Education Tuition Grants Committee made awards totaling $6,260,804 for the initial funding of students for 1974-75. Changes in this amount during the remainder of the fiscal year will reflect the attrition of some students from the program and the addition of others.

The state appropriation for 1974-75 totaled $6,080,000	6,080,000
Federal matching funds through the State Student Incentive Grants Program totaled $203,415	203,415
Total Grants Program Funding	6,283,415

Total administrative costs for 1974-75 will be approximately $100,000 or one and one-half percent (1.5%) of the appropriation. Therefore, ninety-eight and one-half percent (98.5%) of the Tuition Grants appropriation consists of flow-through funds which directly benefit student recipients.

HIGHLIGHTS

1. Approximately 13,000 South Carolina residents attend private colleges. The grants program thus far has assisted 37% of these students. More than 50% need assistance.

2. Eighty one percent (81%) of the Tuition Grant recipients came from families with a total annual income of less than $14,000.

3. The overall average grant was $1,304.00. The average freshman grant was $1,273.00. The average upperclassman grant was $1,337.00.

4. The total student aid budget at the 19 colleges exceeded $16,000,000 for 1974-75. This includes institutional funds, federal funds, and the Tuition Grants Program. The Tuition Grants total of $6.2 million represents approximately 37% of the total.

5. The institutional and private funds available for student aid have increased $500,000 this year.

6. Nationally, private college freshmen enrollment increased 2.4% in 1974-75. South Carolina freshman enrollment at the private colleges increased 8.7%.

7. 36% of the funds this year went to students attending the five predominately black schools. No racial question was asked on the application form.

8. Nearly 2,000 students indicated that they would have been unable to attend any college without the grant.
